In his new book, Life, Recording Hits with the Rolling Stones, the Who, Led Zeppelin, the Eagles, award-winning music journalist David Browne takes readers inside the recording studios with these iconic bands, capturing the creative process and the personal stories behind some of the most beloved songs in rock history.

Browne was granted unprecedented access to the band members, producers, and engineers who worked on these classic albums, and he paints a vivid picture of the creative process, the technical challenges, and the personal relationships that shaped these recordings.

From the Rolling Stones' raucous sessions for Exile on Main St. to the Who's experimental work on Quadrophenia, from Led Zeppelin's mystical recordings for Led Zeppelin IV to the Eagles' country-rock masterpiece Hotel California, Browne tells the stories behind these iconic albums in a way that is both informative and entertaining.

Life, Recording Hits with the Rolling Stones, the Who, Led Zeppelin, the Eagles is a must-read for any fan of these legendary bands. It is a book that will give you a new appreciation for the creative process and the personal stories behind some of the most beloved songs in rock history.
